Away from the roads, the demands made on man and machinery are particularly tough. HELLA branded accessories provide top quality and a huge selection of the most diverse spare parts and add-ons – for any situation.

With the development of innovative and high quality technology in the areas of light, electronics and electrical equipment, HELLA is making a small, but important contribution towards this.

This allows ultra-modern LED worklights to provide optimal visibility when maneuvering and turns night into day for the disposal team. For more information visit:
